My offer to you is very straightforward.

Subject to Ms. Crawford's input, the following happens:

- 1) You get $10,715.00 as your total child support and we end the Court of Appeals litigation.
- 2) You get nothing on your attorney's fees judgments, but we end the Supreme Court litigation.
- 3) I get nothing on the civil case.
- 4) The bankruptcy ends.
- 5) We waive all other litigation we may have against the other for past wrongs, assuming there are any.
- 6) You save tens of thousands of dollars of your time in having to deal with these cases and avoid a possibly large civil judgment.
- 7) Anything you wish to add to wrap up something I am forgetting?

Mr. Minor:

Ms. Crawford has given me the go ahead to begin settlement negotiations with you over all matters that presently separate us. Please put some thought into a settlement offer/demand that you would want to resolve all of the matters between us.

In doing so, please keep in mind that there is a very real possibility you could get nothing in child support, owe me much because of the civil suit and will likely never collect on your other judgments, all this after spending another $50K+ in your own time in continuing to represent your wife.
